Inspired by the feeling of a sophisticated French inn, the Auberge collection is cozy and comfortable, yet chic and sophisticated, too. By updating the “cottage” style’s time-worn appeal to feel more elegant, signature pieces don’t come across as too new, but as integral and significant. The collection catches the eye with an unusual mix of fabrics and finishes, and since many pieces feel like “found” items, they also mix easily with existing pieces. French inspirations dominate, but cleaner Swedish and English forms are evident throughout. Poplar solids with maple veneers come in a painted Vintage White finish, while solid oak forms are featured in Weathered Oak finish. Most are distressed to create an antiqued look, while pieces wrapped in linen add a touch of softness. Unique elements such as scalloping, bombay shapes, and pilasters stand perfectly alongside cleaner shapes, and thoughtful details like cast iron metal, antique mirror, and decorative scrolled hardware in a blackened cast iron finish provide an uncommon style. For a collection that carries casual appeal but leaves a worldly impression, look no further than Auberge.
